I Want to Write Something

Elizabeth Wiles
California State University, Monterey Bay

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.csumb.edu/ords

Recommended Citation
Available at: https://digitalcommons.csumb.edu/ords/vol1/iss2/28

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Journals at Digital Commons @ CSUMB. It has been accepted for inclusion in In the Ords: CSUMB Literary Arts Journal by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ CSUMB. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@csumb.edu.
I Want to Write Something

I want to write something,
But I don’t know what it is,
This fog will never end.
I don’t know where to begin.

I want to write something,
But I don’t know what it is,
of rhyme or of scripture,
To expel what lies within.

I want to write something,
But I don’t know what it is.
Now words cannot describe,
To what depths my mind has been.

I want to write something,
But I don’t know what it is.
Every thought occupied,
I think of nothing but him.

I want to write something,
But I do not know what for.
I used to have myself,
But she’s not here anymore.

I want to write something,
But I do not know what for.
Heart, body, and mind yearn,
For what I never had before.

I want to write something,
But I do not know what for.
Whenever I feel like this, though,
I can always write some more.