

5-4-2018

The Night I Held You

Elizabeth Wiles

California State University, Monterey Bay

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.csumb.edu/ords>

Recommended Citation

Wiles, Elizabeth (2018) "The Night I Held You," In the Ords: CSUMB Literary Arts Journal: Vol. 1 : Iss. 2 , Article 29.

Available at: <https://digitalcommons.csumb.edu/ords/vol1/iss2/29>

This Poetry is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Journals at Digital Commons @ CSUMB. It has been accepted for inclusion in In the Ords: CSUMB Literary Arts Journal by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ CSUMB. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@csumb.edu.

The Night I Held You

Tears streaming down your cheeks,
Your red face hidden from my view.
I will hold onto it,
For that was the night I held you.

Unsaid words now shouted,
Finally, lifted from ado.
Sunk to a plea for her,
But that was the night I held you.

No one else remained there,
The only ones left were us two.
I still hear the silence,
On the night that I held you.

Your sobbing words replay,
Regrets and sorrow in lieu.
I now want nothing more,
Than that one night I held you.

You didn't say you loved me,
But now, I know it is true.
I never wanted to let go,
Of the night that I held you.

I can still feel your heart break,
I felt it within mine too.
I will hold it together ,
For that was the night I held you.