

Research Profiles @ CSUMB is a comprehensive database for organizing and showcasing the scholarly and creative activities at California State University, Monterey Bay. This platform offers a unique space for CSUMB faculty and staff to curate and present their publications, grants, and projects, enhancing the visibility of their work and providing opportunities for collaboration.

These profiles allow researchers to manage a public record of scholarly publications, presentations, and other materials, including:

- Your photo
- A description of your work and research specialties
- Your CV
- Links to personal websites and blogs
- Areas of research
- Courses taught

Any materials that are important to your career can go on your Research Profiles page, such as:

- Articles
- Book chapters
- Conference presentations
- Other materials, such as book reviews, editorials, or dissertations

To request a profile, please contact digitalcommons@csumb.edu and include the following in your email:

- Your CV (or a list of publications)
- A headshot
- A paragraph or two about your educational background and/or research interests

Library staff will create an account for you and populate your profile with links to your recent journal articles and other publications. After it's been created, you'll be able to access your account to edit your profile and post additional work.

For information about editing your profile and adding content, please see the Personal Users Guide.
